

Wrap-up

Takuji Kubota and Chris Kummerow, IPWG Co-Chairs
F. Joseph (Joe) Turk, CGMS rapporteur

Award ceremony of IPWG-11 Best Poster Awards

Announcements

- For both the presentations and the posters, in the past these have been made available on the IPWG website.
- Later, JAXA will ask you by an e-mail about the availability of online uploading of presentation files and poster files (pdf format).

Announcements

- The IPWG moves to the staggered co-chairs system.
- IPWG welcomes Dr. Giulia Panegrossi as a new co-chair and Prof. Chris Kummerow continues the co-chair for further 2 years.

Announcements

- The Next IPWG workshop (IPWG-12)
- Somewhere at 2026: Several potential venue candidates, likely in Europe, ...
- Possibly joint workshop with IWSSM (International Workshop on Space-based Snowfall Measurement)
- See you again in the IPWG-12!

Marunouchi Hall &amp; Conference, near Tokyo station

Unraveling precipitation from satellites

10-year achievements of Global Precipitation Measurement (GPM) mission and prospect of future precipitation observations

19th Jul. 2024 (Fri)
13:00 - 17:30 (Doors: 12:30)

Marunouchi Hall & Conference + Online Streaming

Participation
Fee
Free

https://www.eorc.jaxa.jp/GPM/event/gpm10th/index\_e.html

When you were already registered in the GPM 10th Anniversary symposium homepage, there are no problem.

When you are not registered yet, you can participate it when you submit your IPWG-11 name card to the reception desk.

When you don't need your IPWG-11 name card, please return your name cards to the IPWG-11 reception desks.